

WEAK MEN CURED!

O THE MAN whose vitality is exhausted and who finds himself, while young in years, a broken down wreck of what he ought to be, the Dr. McLaughlin Electric Belt is full of encouragement. It is the success of the age in elevating the condition of men suffering from a loss of vitality.

Dr. McLaughlin's Electric Belt is worn while you sleep. For six or eight hours every night it pours a steady stream of electricity into the nerve center, saturating the weakened tissues and organs with its life. This is strength. From it comes the vim, energy, the fire of perfect physical and mental action. It renews the health and happiness of all men.

SEE THIS CURE:

Colma, Cal., December 12, 1900.
DR. M. A. McLAUGHLIN—Dear Sir: Several months ago I purchased one of your high-grade Belts, having suffered from rheumatism in arms and legs, and occasionally in the back. My back was very weak and painful. I used your Belt as you directed and am happy to state that it has done all you claimed it would, all signs of the trouble being gone. I have not a pain or an ache, and will cheerfully recommend your Belt. Yours very truly,

T. HARRISON.

A LITERARY PROGRAM

Makawao Society Meets at Hamakuapoko.

LATEST NEWS FROM MAUI

Death of J. C. Long, Chief Bookkeeper at Kihei Plantation-- Other Notes.

(Special Correspondence.)

WAILUKU, Maui, Feb. 2.—A large number of Maui people attended the meeting of the Makawao Literary Society held at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Nicol of Hamakuapoko, February 1. The following program was ably rendered and gave much pleasure to the audience:

Piano Solo, Mrs. H. A. Baldwin. Vocal Solo, Mr. S. R. Dowdle. Vocal Duet, Mesdames Nicoll and Baldwin.

A farce in one act entitled "Never Say Die." The characters of the drama were: Mrs. Simon Greylock, Mrs. W. E. Beckwith.

Patty, Mrs. S. E. Taylor, Alice Chase, Miss Ethel Smith. Simon Greylock, Mr. W. O. Aiken. John Bounce, Mr. J. J. Hair. Ralph Cheney, Mr. W. E. Beckwith.

The little play was an exceedingly humorous one, the "Never Say Die" of the title referring to the dying of the whisks of "Simon Greylock."

DEATH OF J. C. LONG.

J. C. Long died yesterday at Kihei of pneumonia after a short illness. Mr. Long was born in New Bedford, Mass., about forty-eight years ago. He was an old kamaaina of Hawaii, having resided here many years. For a long period of time he resided at Kilauea, Kauai, where he was bookkeeper of the plantation and deputy sheriff. Afterwards he was deputy sheriff of Wailuku, a lawyer in Makawao, bookkeeper of Haleakala ranch and at the time of his death bookkeeper of Kihei plantation. "Chester" Long, as he was called by his friends, was a man of ability, genial, sociable and popular. The funeral will take place this afternoon at the English Church, Wailuku, Rev. William Ault officiating.

A special train will be run from Paia by the Kahului Railroad Company.

GENERAL NOTES.

The longshoremen "strike" at Kahului is about over. Some of the laborers came back yesterday and today there's a large company of the old men at work unloading the vessels in the harbor.

Saturday evening a reception was given by Rev. William Ault and bride at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Marshall of Wailuku. The parlors were beautifully decorated with palms and ferns, and the verandas made gay with Japanese lanterns.

A large number of Wailuku and Spreckelsville people presented congratulations and wishes for future happiness.

Miss Clara Lowrie, who is attending school at Irving Institute, San Francisco, has been very ill with pneumonia. So serious was her illness that her mother, Mrs. W. J. Lowrie of Spreckelsville, has sailed to San Francisco to be with her daughter.

By the last mail from the Coast a decided improvement has been reported. Mrs. Fanny Stockbridge is the guest of Miss Turner of Wailuku.

It is stated that Miss Hart of Maunaloa Seminary will soon accept the position of vice principal of the Punahou Preparatory School.

Whooping cough is epidemic among the school children of Uluapalua.

The Maui Sugar Company of Huelo has ordered a mill to be landed on their sugar estate within five months.

One of the methods in use on Makawao plantation for solving the present labor problem is piece work; so much is paid per ton for loading cars and so much for packing the cane from the field to the cars. This plan works well, for the Japs get higher wages and are pleased and the plantation gets a large amount of work done.

The cattle drive at Kahikini is about ended.

There was a large coating of snow on Haleakala during January 31st. During the 20th a thunder and lightning storm occurred in East Maui.

FROM THE MAUI NEWS.

The Wailuku Weekly's Record of Island Happenings.

WAILUKU, Maui, Feb. 2.—The News says: On January 13 a half caste Chinese boy was accidentally shot by a Portuguese boy in the mountains mauka of Hana. The deputy sheriff investigated the case and exonerated the boy; $50 was paid to the wounded man, presumably by the friends of the Portuguese boy. A plank sidewalk has been laid from the Hana store to the Hana plantation stables, near the wharf, a distance of between 700 and 800 feet. The work was done by the Hana Road Board.

Mr. Theo. Richards, Rev. Mr. Leadingham, H. K. Poepe, Jos. Kalaina and L. A. have been visiting in the interest of the Hawaiian churches.

Four Japanese have engaged in the fishing business at Hana and keep the market continually supplied with fresh fish.

On Wednesday evening a heavy thunderstorm and a heavy rain visited the Hana district.

PERSONAL MENTION.

Miss Wong Kong, teacher at Paia, is quite ill at the Mahulani Hospital. Peter Genet, an old resident of Maui, died at Mahulani Hospital, Wailuku, on last Wednesday night.

Jack Bergstrom will not get away from Maui this week, as he has stacks of work booked ahead of him.

Dickie Davis is visiting Wailuku this week and on Monday next will accept a leading position in the new Honolulu Meat Market.

Mrs. Stockbridge of Baltimore, aunt of Mrs. J. B. Atherton of Honolulu, is visiting Wailuku this week as the guest of Miss Turner.

Messrs. Pierre Jones and T. Tieman of the John Fowler Steam Plough Works have been as busy as beavers this week and are selling heavy bills in their line.

Mr. H. T. Lake of the Bergstrom Music Company returned to Maui on Wednesday with several pianos which he sold last week. He says he still has "just one left."

Papa Ita came to Wailuku on Wednesday. He will visit Hilo next week. He may possibly visit Lahaina on his return from the big Island. He thinks of visiting the Buffalo exposition in May.

Mr. Theo. Richards of Honolulu, accompanied by Mr. Leadingham, is on a tour of Maui in the interests of native Hawaiian churches. They are now in the Hana district and will visit Wailuku before their return to Honolulu.

Miss Rowena Richardson, who has quite successfully filled the position of teacher in the Wailuku grammar school, has been transferred to Lahaina school to fill the position left vacant by the resignation of Mrs. Hayselden.

THE HAIR BRUSH.

Breeds Dandruff, Which Causes Falling Hair and Finally Baldness.

Prof. Unna, Hamburg, Germany, European authority on skin diseases, says that dandruff is as contagious as any other malevolent disease and that one common source of the spread of dandruff is the use of the same hair brush by different persons. The way to avoid catching dandruff or any other disease from another's brush is to insist on the use of Newbro's Herpicide. It not only kills the dandruff germ, but it is also an antiseptic that will prevent the catching of any disease whatever through contagion of another's brush.

POLICE COURT

WILL BE BUSY

Luau Ends in a Fight and Several Arrests Follow.

The list of malefactors who will appear at Judge Wilcox's tribunal this morning is a lengthy one, and the charge sheet is nicely spiced with variety.

A. J. Morris and G. Radin will answer to a charge of assault and battery on one Fred. Rochan. The quarrel was the fruit of a Kewalo luau given at Rochan's house. Rochan had some trouble with his wife, whereupon Morris and Radin, who were guests at the luau, intervened in the woman's behalf. A row followed in which Rochan sustained a broken nose.

When the police arrived on the scene Rochan was holding the other two men at bay with a club and was accordingly arrested on general principles.

The following day Rochan came to the conclusion that he had been harshly dealt with, and had his two erstwhile guests arrested on a charge of assault and battery.

Ah Kim, Look Ngo and Ah Chuch were arrested by George Sea for complicity in running a chee bank.

Denny will, it is anticipated, deny that he left a certain animal, to wit, a horse, untied in a public street.

Twelve drunks have applied for reserved seats in the alcoholic reservation. Six natives, three haoles, two Portuguese and one Jap made up the collection.

Osakichi is in trouble for having carved with a jack-knife Ah Tim, with whom he had had some dispute during the progress of a game of chance.

Makuku found himself in the strong clutches of the law, of which he posed as a valiant representative. Pinning the bottom of a can of salmon on the lapel of his coat, he entered a Paia store on Liliha street and told the proprietor that he was Food Commissioner Shorey. Then he started on a tour of inspection of the sardines, cakes, cigars, etc., not neglecting to secure a few of each commodity for home analysis. He had laid in a weeks supply when the patrol wagon arrived.

J. Clark, H. Klemm and A. Mamon enjoyed a free ride in the official coach for having made loud and disturbing noises by night.

Ah Young is being held for investigation. He went into a Japanese barber shop and ordered his hair cut. Another Chinaman who was in the shop at the time warned the Jap to leave his patron's queue where it was.

Finding that his orders were not being attended to, Ah Young seized a pair of shears and cut his pigtail off himself. An officer heard of it and, thinking that a Chinaman who would do such a thing must be insane, hauled him in.

At the station Ah Young said that he cut his hair because he was a king—the king of America. He and the queen, he said, were going to leave for the coast in a day or so. Turkey Malanphy, he promised, should be given the post of Commissary General of the Army, and the various other prison officials from High Sheriff Brown down to "Trusty" Jack, were to be similarly remembered.

There is not an ounce of headache in a barrel of it, Jesse Moore "AA" Whiskey. Try it and see for yourself.
